OFFICIAL PAPER OF THE CITY OF AKRON.

TO TELEPHONE THE DEMOCRAT CALL
No. 180.

THURSDAY, MAY 10

"LIBERTY."

The following attractive little circular, which carries conviction to the reader upon a subject of interest to every American, was designed and printed by Mr. H. G. Canfield, of Akron, and is being distributed to his friends:

PROCLAIM LIBERTY
throughout the World.

DRIVEN HOME:

"We hold these truths to be self-evident, that all men are created equal that they are endowed by their Creator with certain unalienable rights; that among these are life, liberty, and the pursuit of happiness. That, to secure these rights, governments are instituted among men, deriving their just powers from the consent of the governed."

From the DECLARATION OF INDEPENDENCE.

CLINCHED:

"Forcible annexation is criminal aggression; governments derive their just powers from the consent of the governed, not of some of them, but of all of them."

Wm. McKinley, in 1898.

Liberty—Jefferson declared it; Washington defended it; McKinley endorsed it.

In his address to the Primrose League yesterday, Lord Salisbury threw out a broad hint that other nations, America included, should keep their hands off England's quarrel in South Africa. He urged the British people to equip themselves for war by encouraging marksmanship and the formation of rifle clubs, as it is evident that Great Britain will have plenty of fighting upon her hands before many years go by. For a nation that took a leading part in the international peace conference only a year ago, England occupies a most remarkable position now. But America has nothing to boast about.

Since the City Commissioners and the Councilmen got together, life at the City Hall has been one grand, sweet song. It is pleasing to see brethren dwelling together in unity, but if the members of the City Hall love feast expect the taxpayers to throw up their hats and shout for harmony, they will have to make some inroads upon that deficit.

The Populist convention at Sioux City and the Populist convention at Cincinnati have opened a deadly fire upon each other at long range. The Sioux City convention accuses the Cincinnati contingent of working in the interests of Mr. Hanna and the charge doesn't seem to be far from right.

After a murderer has escaped on account of the poor marksmanship of the police, the Cleveland police department is thinking of establishing target practice for the officers. What a snip the Boers would have if the British soldiers were as poor marksmen as the Cleveland police.

Akron's City Commissioners take a hopeful view of the City's financial condition. They claim that within the next three years the deficit will be nothing more than an unpleasant memory. The city's property owners hope that the Commissioners are right in their prophecy.

Next year's convention of the Ohio Grand Army of the Republic will be held at Bellefontaine. This is an honor in which Akron ought to share with her Ohio neighbors before many years go by.

OPINION

Relative to Ownership of Oil Product.

It Will Interest Summit County's Property Owners.

(Special Correspondence.)

Columbus, May 10.—In response to a request from the Prosecuting Attorney of Sandusky county, Assistant Attorney General Todd has framed an opinion relative to the appraisement for taxation of land containing deposits of petroleum or other minerals. Mr. Todd holds that the presence of such a deposit should be taken into account in the determination of the value of land for taxation and that taxes therefor should be assessed against the owner of the land unless there has been a conveyance which separates the fee in the mineral product from the fee in the land. In the latter case taxes upon the oil or the other mineral should be assessed against the person holding the fee therein.

It is further held that the ordinary lease of oil and gas lands does not constitute such conveyance as to separate the fee but that each particular tract of land upon which a lease or any other conveyance has been executed presents a separate question of fact. The opinion is based upon section 2702 of the Revised Statutes, the case of Jones vs. Wood, Ninth Circuit court, 509, and the case of Kelly vs. the Ohio Oil company, 57th Ohio State 511, in which the Supreme court holds that petroleum is a mineral and that, while it is in the earth, it forms a part of the realty.

FALLS CASE.

To Enjoin Tax Levy For Water Works, Goes to Supreme Court.

(Special Correspondence.)

Columbus, May 10.—The case of John W. Walsh and A. J. Pontus vs. Louis E. Sisler, Auditor of Summit county, and the village of Cuyahoga Falls, on error to the Circuit court of Summit county, has been filed in the Supreme court. The original action was brought to enjoin the collection of taxes under an ordinance providing for the construction of a water works system at Cuyahoga Falls. The case was decided in favor of the village at the last session of Circuit court.

Error Kills the Bill.

(Special Correspondence.)

Columbus, May 10.—An error has been discovered in the engrossed copy of the Wilhelm bill, providing for the appointment of an official stenographer for Carroll county and the law is not valid. It provides for the appointment of an official stenographer in "all counties having a population of not less than 15,000 nor more than 16,575. There are no such counties.

Columbus, May 10.—State Mine Inspector Blidison has announced that he will not appoint his district inspectors until next Tuesday. He will probably retain the present clerical force in his office.

BOSS COX

Becomes Ambitious.

Seeks to be Member National Committee.

Will Fight Gen. Dick For the Honor.

Daugherty Forces Are Behind This Move.

They Seek Revenge For Wrongs of the Past.

The followers of Harry M. Daugherty have not laid down their arms. Despite the general supposition that the recent Republican State convention eliminated them as an element of the party they are determined not to relinquish their cause, says a Columbus special to the Cincinnati Enquirer. The next movement antagonistic to the Administration will be to fight the candidacy of General Charles W. F. Dick for the Ohio membership of the National committee. According to information received by a leading lieutenant of Daugherty, George B. Cox is in earnest in the candidacy attributed to him for that honor. It is stated that Cox is willing to make the issue as against Dick on the ground that the latter is now enjoying far more honors than he deserves or than should be bestowed upon any man. Dick is the secretary of the National committee, member of Congress from the Summit district, Major General of the Ohio National Guard, High Megul of the National Administration in carrying out the plans of Senator Hanna, and has other official relations too numerous to mention. So it is argued that he should now stand aside and give some other prominent Republican a chance. This, of course, is the Daugherty view of it.

There can be no doubt that in the fight to make Howard Mannington the nominee for Secretary of State, the Daugherty people captured a great many of the delegates to the Philadelphia convention. These they claim to still control. It is their purpose to throw their votes to Cox, as against Dick. The Administration managers, on the other hand, do not look kindly upon any proposition to deprive Dick of membership in the National committee, and are frowning upon the aspirations of Cox in that direction. Herein may be the possibility of a breach in relations between Cox and the Administration. That he is ambitious to be the National committeeman there appears to be little or no doubt. If he should be turned down in favor of the alphabetical statesman from Akron, doubtless he would not feel very highly complimented, to say the least, or recompensed for the service he has performed for the Administration in recent years. Dick, however, is said to be obdurate, and unless the signs fail, there is serious trouble ahead.

The continuation of the fight of the Daugherty people is inspired to a great extent by the waning influence of the National Administration. Their hope centers in next year. As one of their leaders expressed it today, "There'll be a-1 to pay in Ohio next year." And there is every indication that the idea of this Daughertyite is quite correct.

The mutterings of discontent against the Administration, State and National, prevalent at the recent State convention, demonstration a strong sentiment against a longer duration of boss rule. Not only this, but the disappointed aspirants for Federal positions are beginning to realize that the oft-repeated promises made them were never intended to be fulfilled, and that there is now no hope for reward at the hands of McKinley. Of course, there will be an attempt made in the approaching National campaign to have it appear that the Administration yet has a great deal of patronage to

THE HEALTH OF YOUNG WOMEN

Two of Them Helped by Mrs. Pinkham—Read their Letters.

"DEAR MRS. PINKHAM:—I am sixteen years old and am troubled with my monthly sickness. It is very irregular, occurring only once in two or three months, and also very painful. I also suffer with cramps and once in a while pain strikes me in the heart and I have drowsy headaches. If there is anything you can do for me, I will gladly follow your advice."

—MISS MARY GOMES, Aptos, Cal., July 31, 1898.

"DEAR MRS. PINKHAM:—After receiving your letter I began the use of your remedies, taking both Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and Blood Purifier. I am now regular every month and suffer no pain. Your medicine is the best that any suffering girl can take."

—MISS MARTHA JENSEN, Box 18, Ogdenburg, Wis., June 10, 1899.

"DEAR MRS. PINKHAM:—I wish to express my thanks to you for the great benefit I have received from the use of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. I suffered constantly from terrible headache, had chills, was nervous and dizzy. I had tried different kinds of medicine but they all failed entirely. After taking three bottles of Vegetable Compound and three of Blood Purifier I am all right. I cannot thank you enough for what your remedies have done for me."

—MISS MARTHA JENSEN, Box 18, Ogdenburg, Wis., June 10, 1899.

best, but the working Republicans are becoming tired of being fooled.

While they understand that the Cuban, Porto Rican and Philippine acquisitions will place at the disposal of the Administration some additional patronage, their eyes are now opened to the fact that it will be given to the favorites of the close corporation of Hanna, Dick & Co., without regard to the party in general. Furthermore, there are few Ohio Republicans who relish the idea of going to a foreign clime to receive some miserable little reward for the services they have rendered the Administration. Next year, when a Governor is to be elected, there will be practically no patronage, State or National, in sight to hold the patriots in line.

Nash will have disposed of all the places within his gift, and the National Administration will be unable, for a similar reason, to help him. Neither will there be any opportunity to rally the Republicans around the standard of the Administration, by the battle cry of "Stand by the President."

With Nash's share of all the advantages he enjoyed in the contest of last summer for his nomination it would appear to be an easy matter to defeat him as a candidate for a second term. Under these circumstances the Daugherty element is again buckling on the armor for a battle similar to, but greater than that of last year against the powers that be. It is the plan to again pit Daugherty against Nash for the gubernatorial nomination. The strong organization formed for the nomination of Mannington as Secretary of State in the recent contest is to be continued and strengthened all along the line, and nothing is to be left undone to enhance the prospect of a signal victory. This is the secret of much of the work on behalf of Mannington, after it became apparent earlier than generally supposed, that he could not be made the nominee for Secretary of State.

Nash's many mistakes recorded at this early stage of his campaign appears to indicate that his administration will be in a very shaky condition by the time it has reached the close of his first term. His health is said to be breaking down; his general policy is timid and vacillating; many of his appointments are very unpopular; his Legislature ran away from him, receiving his recommendations with contempt and utterly ignoring his edicts; his persistent effort to prevent the holding of an Ohio Centennial has arrayed all the great Northwest against him for a second term; the growing sentiment among Republicans against the boss dictation of Hanna, Dick & Co., of which he is a creature, will be against him to a very formidable degree, and altogether the Daugherty people, led by a young, vigorous and popular candidate, expect to find the fight of next year easier by far than that of last.

Colonel George P. Waldorf and Frank Beard, of Toledo, the latter the new appointee as State Oil Inspector of Northern Ohio, were here this afternoon in conference with Governor

Nash. They brought with them a list of the deputies they have "framed up" for appointment under Oil Inspector Beard, and desired the Governor to approve it. Upon this question it is said the Governor laid down the law in somewhat strong language. According to the Governor's decree, none of the deputies are to be appointed until there has been a thorough investigation for the satisfaction of Dick, Hanna & Co.

In fact "Boss" Waldorf and the new Oil Inspector struck a serious snag. The calling down they received yesterday grows out of a certain action on the part of Waldorf in the appointment of Beard. The Governor is said to have been very cleverly deceived to the selection of the new inspector. As has been known ever since last fall's election, General Dick and Senator Hanna intended to have the Northern Oil Inspectorship go to none other than H. H. Hollenbeck, of Erie county. Mr. Hollenbeck, it will be recalled, performed certain service for Senator Hanna in the not far distant past that indebted the dictator to him in a very considerable degree. Just before the appointments of the new Oil Inspectors were announced Waldorf made a visit to Washington. There he conferred with Dick and Hanna, but it is said he took care not to mention the Oil Inspectorship to them. Returning to Ohio, he came immediately to Columbus and called upon the Governor with reference to the candidacy of Beard. It is now said he informed the Governor that he had conferred with Dick and Hanna regarding Beard, and that they desired him appointed—in fact, sent word to the Governor to appoint him. Acting upon this supposed edict from the two dictators, the Governor named Beard instead of Hollenbeck.

As soon as the Senator and the General learned of the Governor's action they took him to task for it. He justified his action by informing them of the supposed message that Waldorf had borne. Then the blame was shifted to Waldorf, and Dick has been lambasting him ever since.

The rage of the General is said to be at such a high pitch that nothing of recent date in politics has so aroused his wrath. Today it is learned that Waldorf and Beard have agreed to compromise matters by giving to Hollenbeck $4,000 a year of Beard's income in the office. Such an arrangement was effected between Captain James B. Lundy, Beard's successor, and the late Major J. H. Holcomb, of Paulding. This, however, is said to be quite unsatisfactory to Hollenbeck, and he is threatening all kinds of trouble. It is stated today that he may be given the additional consolation prize of the State Fire Marshalship, which will pay $3,000 a year.

Warner's Safe Cure is a scientific vegetable preparation for the restoring to health of tired out kidneys and overworked livers. When these great organs are in health there can be no impure blood, headaches or constipation. Man cannot improve on nature, hence it is amusing to read of medicines which claim to "remove impurities from the blood," etc. "The kidneys enrich and vitalize the blood," etc. The kidneys, liver and lungs purify the blood and they alone. Neither medicine nor man can do it. Warner's Safe Cure, by helping nature, is an aid, an assistant—simply that and nothing more. The twentieth century man or woman is a reasoning, sensible person and seldom deceived by misstatements.
